Part 1:

You receive the following project request on Upwork:

"We are looking for an AI student to develop an AI chatbot that answers frequently asked questions (FAQs) for our company. The project should be completed remotely within two weeks."

As a professional freelancer, prepare a project plan by completing the following tasks:

1. Write eight professional questions you would ask the client before accepting the project.
2. Define the project's expected deliverables.
3. Divide the project into three logical milestones.
4. Select four digital tools you would use during the project and explain why each tool is appropriate.

Part 2:

Imagine you start your remote workday with the following tasks:

- 25 unread emails
- Meeting notes
- A project proposal
- A LinkedIn post
- A weekly progress report
- Customer questions

Design a productivity workflow that includes:

1. The order in which you would complete these tasks.
2. Which AI tool(s) you would use for each task.
3. Which tasks require human review before submission.
4. Three risks of relying completely on AI.
5. Three best practices for using AI responsibly in professional work.

Part 3:

You have completed an AI project at university and want to use it to attract remote job opportunities.

Prepare a practical branding strategy that includes:

1. How you would present the project on GitHub.
2. How you would present it on LinkedIn.
3. How you would include it in your Portfolio Website.
4. Write one professional LinkedIn post (120–150 words) promoting the project.
5. Write one AI prompt that could help you improve this post.
6. Explain what parts of the AI-generated content should always be reviewed manually.

Part 4:

You have launched an online AI service that automatically summarizes business documents.

Design a 7-day digital marketing campaign that includes:

1. Your target audience.
2. Three marketing objectives.
3. A content schedule for seven days.
4. The platform(s) you would use for each post.
5. The type of content you would publish each day.
6. Three Key Performance Indicators (KPIs) you would use to evaluate the campaign.
7. Explain how AI can support your campaign while maintaining ethical standards.

Part 5:

Read the following scenario carefully.

You are working remotely for an international client.

During the project:

- The client requests additional features that were not included in the original agreement.
- The project deadline is only seven days away.
- The client stops replying to your messages for two days.
- You discover that part of the provided data is incomplete.
- You still need to maintain a professional relationship with the client.

Prepare a professional action plan that explains:

1. How you would organize and prioritize your remaining work.
2. How you would communicate with the client professionally.
3. Which digital collaboration tools you would use.
4. Which AI tools could help you complete the project more efficiently.
5. How you would negotiate the additional work.
6. How you would ensure quality before delivery.
7. How you could transform this successful project into future freelance opportunities and strengthen your professional brand.
